Industrial Safety Guardrail"Stop Fork Encroachment"

Stop fork encroachment with NOTCHGUARD® industrial guardrail. This unique industrial safety rail helps prevent accidental damage to products, controls and materials stored in defined storage and holding areas.

Standard industrial guardrail is designed like road guide rail. The road safety rail is spaced at bumper and fender height to accommodate cars and trucks. NOTCHGUARD® bottom rail is installed to prevent the forks attached to a lift truck from protruding through the rail and causing product damage. Standard forklift industry safety guidelines say the forklift operator should travel with the forks in the lowest possible position. Operators conforming to these guidelines travel with the forks 6" to 8" off the ground.

NOTCHGUARD® barriers help prevent these forks from encroaching product stored on the other side of the rail.

NOTCHGUARD® safety rail is easy to install with common tools such as wrenches, sockets and hammer drill. All standard fasteners are included, even the floor anchors and simple installation instructions are included with each order.

NOTCHGUARD® uses the sturdiest posts in the industry. Each post is manufactured from 5" x 5" square tubular metal welded to a 10" x 10" baseplate. Each rail is designed to assure structural stiffness to meet the 10,000 lb. at 4 mph breakthrough rating when installed at proper concrete depth.

All rails and posts have a safety yellow powder coat finish.
